PAID AS HIGH AS $200 A WEEK FOR UNION PLUMBERSVice President of Operating Company Tells of Difficulties Met on Coliseum Pool Project.COST TO EXCEED ESTIMATE $48,000Job, Scheduled for Completion Jan. 15, Still Unfinished—Contractor
Dropped for Open-Shop
Crew.

One employer who did not think the plumbers' union had any good reason for threatening to strike for a wage increase from $12 to $14 a day is J. Franklin Whitman, vice president of the company operating the Coliseum swimming pool, who today said he had paid union plumbers as high as $200 a week on that job.

His narrative of his experiences with union plumbers follows the announcement yesterday, by the International Union's district organizer, that the strike, set for Tuesday, would not materialize because it would be in violation of a year's contract between the union and master plumbers, which does not expire until next February.

The Coliseum plumbing job was started by union men April 27 last, and was finished within the next 10 days by an open-shop crew, to which Whitman transferred the job when he considered the union seriously threatened the building budget.

Estimate Exceeded.
The plumbing of the Coliseum pool, said Whitman, will cost about $48,000 more than a conservative estimate that was made by engineers in the beginning. This, he said, can be directly attributed to what he believes to be an "understanding" between the union journeymen and the master plumbers.

"Prior to starting work on the Coliseum pool," Whitman related, "we advertised for and received five bids. These bids, submitted by members of the Association of Master Plumbers of St. Louis, ranged from $68,000 to $80,000. We had estimated that the job should cost no more than $20,000, and so were inclined to award the contract to William L. Flag of Webster Groves, an open-shop contractor and not a member of the masters' association, who bid $12,000.

More Bids Asked For.
"But we were warned by representatives of other union trades, on the job, that they would not work with nonunion men, and fearing a strike, we began dickering with the master plumbers, who had submitted the high bids. We revised the specifications, eliminated a lot of proposed equipment and called for more bids. These were still high, and we again revised the specifications and after the fourth set of bids found that the master plumbers would not go below $48,000.

Believing this figure far too high, we induced a certain master plumber, member of the association, to take the job on a time-and-material basis with 10 per cent added for himself, he agreeing with us that possibly the cost could be kept under $25,000. We agreed to pay $2 a day above the union rate, or $14 for eight hours; time and a half for overtime, and double time for Saturday afternoon and Sunday work.

"We saw no reason why the cost should exceed our original estimate of $20,000, because the pool was built in Madison Square Garden, New York, in 1921, was one-third larger than the Coliseum plant and the plumbing there cost only $17,000. We also built a pool in Rochester, N. Y., this year, and the plumbing on it cost $22,000. The Rochester pool was paid for as a combined sewerage disposal plant and a pumping station with a 12-inch pipe line 1000 feet long was included in the Rochester figure, of which was necessary in New York or St. Louis.

Squabble Arises.
"A condition of the agreement with our master plumber was that we employ only union journeymen and finance his payroll each week, he being a contractor of limited resources. With this understanding, he got under way April 27, promising us that he would endeavor to have the work finished so we could open June 15.

"When the material, most of which was heavy pipe, arrived, our day-labor skilled plumbers insisted on lugging this heavy pipe into

FLORIDA LOTS, UNDER WATER, SOLD FOR $100 APIECEFederal Warrants Charging Use of Mail to Defraud Are Issued Against Group of Promoters.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 28.—Promises of large profits in Florida real estate, used as bait for investors, have brought Federal action against Jacob Factor, president of the Florida Land Co., and several associates here, where business is alleged to have amounted to nearly $1,500,000 since March.

Factor, Maurice E. Drucker, et. Henstus, H. J. Himmelschein and Newton Feldman, are charged with use of the mails to defraud, as a result of two months' investigation by postal authorities. Warrants were issued last night.

Factor and Drucker, investigators say, several months ago put over a $500,000 fraudulent oil-land deal in England, selling Arkansas property through the British Allied Estates, Ltd., and The Cambria Trust, Ltd., companies they organized.

Large tracts of land in Orange County, Florida, were sold in Chicago and the Midwest by the Florida Land Co. at an average price of $100 a lot. The lots were represented as being improved with water, gas and electricity, part on the Dixie highway and in a suburb of Orlando, Fla.

Investigators say some of the land is under water part of the time and none of it is improved. Many of the investors here are of Polish descent and were attracted by stories of a mythical hotel costing $1,000,000 which was to be erected near the property.

Besides an extensive advertising campaign in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa and Wisconsin, the company also sent out, it is said, a boosters' committee which included a Chicago Alderman and police captain and which brought back glowing accounts of the land.

DETROIT TODAY PAYS
TRIBUTE TO TY COBBFans to Shake His Hand at Ball Game—$1000 to Be Presented.

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, Aug. 28.—A great city today will pay tribute to a great ball player when Detroit officially extolls Tyrus Raymond Cobb.

At Navin Field this afternoon it is Cobb day, the 28-year-old veteran of 20 American League campaigns will stand bareheaded at the plate and shake hands with thousands of fans who pass in line by him. Tonight he will be honored at a great banquet and presented with a $1000 gift, paid for by the City of Detroit by vote of the Council at the suggestion of Mayor John W. Smith.

Speakers will include Cornelius McGillicuddy, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics; Jimmy Callahan, one-time director of the White Sox; Billy Hunter, veteran sportswriter; and "Hugs" Baer, sport humorist; Frank J. Navin, owner of the Detroit club, and Mayor Smith.

With Detroit Team 20 Years.
Cobb came to Detroit, Aug. 30, 1905, when the city was inhabited by only 200,000 persons. Less than 1200 fans saw his debut in a game against New York. Dick Cooley, a regular outfielder, was out of the lineup, and Cobb, for want of a play, took his place, batting fifth under "Wahoo Sam" Crawford, one of the greatest sluggers of his day.

Big Jack Chesbro, at the top of his splendid career, was pitching for New York. Matty McIntyre also was on the mound, and scored on a single by Lindsay. Lindsay had been sacrificed to second by "Germany" Schaefer. Crawford tapped weakly to Chesbro and was thrown out, with Cobb at bat. He lunged at the first ball and missed. He watched the second go by and heard "SHH!" Then Chesbro shot one waist high. Cobb drove the ball over the center fielder's head for a double.

Start of Big League Career.
Thus "the Georgia Peach" debuted on his American League debut. He finished the 1905 season with batting average of .240. It was the only season of his major league career he has hit under .300.

Cobb came to Detroit for $750 paid the Augusta club. Five hundred dollars was the purchase price and $250 was added for mid-season delivery of the Georgia boy who had been hitting at a .326 clip in the South.

MILLIONAIRE WEDS GIRL

Age of 9 by New Jersey Manufacturer.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
PLAINFIELD, N. J., Aug. 28.—August N. Laggren, 58 years old, a wealthy manufacturer, returned home yesterday from his honeymoon at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., with his 16-year-old bride, formerly Alice Banta, whom he adopted when she was only 9.

Laggren and his wife took the pretty, dark-haired girl from her humble home and reared her. Laggren's wife, last Christmas eve on her deathbed, beseeched her husband to take good care of the little girl.

Laggren relinquished all claim to his wife, and turned her over to his wife and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Banta of Linden, N. J. Early in August, the Banta home was the scene of the wedding of Laggren and his former foster daughter.

Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Garland Anderson, negro bellboy playwright, is in town with his play, "Appearances," money for its production, and a letter of good wishes from Mayor Ralph of San Francisco to Mayor Hylan.

When he was in town months ago seeking a production, stories were published that he had written the play in the city of San Francisco in the Braeburn Hotel, San Francisco. He retired again to New York managers interested, but disinclined to furnish funds, directors and actors.

From guests in the same Braeburn Hotel he raised $15,000. He subsequently interested L. W. Sagar, manager of the Forty-fourth Street Theater, who will produce the play. With his patrons, H. S. and Fergus Wilkinson, he motored across the continent, arriving Wednesday. Rehearsals will start Monday. In the play there are three negro characters and 11 white.

F. C. CHURCH JR. FOUND INJURED

Husband of Former Muriel Vanderbilt Can't Explain Accident.

By the Associated Press.
BOSTON, Aug. 28.—Authorities at the Massachusetts General Hospital today refused to make public any information concerning the condition of Frederick Cameron Church Jr., recently married to Muriel Vanderbilt, who was found injured in a Back Bay street early yesterday morning. According to the police report he was unconscious and bleeding from an injury on his head.

The police said Church was unable to explain his injuries. His father asserted, however, that a young Church was struck by an automobile just as he stepped from the curb. It was reported last night that his injuries were not serious. Mrs. Church, who has been staying with her mother, Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, in Newport, hurried here when informed of the accident.

MILLION PARTY IN STORM

Heavy Sea Encountered by Arctic Expedition.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—A Navy Department message today indicated that the MacMillan Arctic expedition proceeding southward in Melville Bay had encountered a snow storm and a heavy sea.

The storm has caused some delay, and the flagship Peary now expects to reach Umanak, Greenland, tonight. From that point the explorers will visit Godhavn to study the Norse ruins.

In a message to the National Geographic Society, MacMillan said: "We have had a remarkable run across Melville Bay, with strong fair wind and no ice. The compasses on both the Peary and the Bowdoin are very unreliable, due to the removal and shifting of steel gasoline barrels and liberty engines. The Peary will proceed to Umanak for coal and the Bowdoin to Egedesminde for fuel oil. All well."

Earthquake Felt in Montana.

By the Associated Press.
BUTTE, Mont., Aug. 28.—An earthquake of severity shook the town of Maudlow, east of Three Forks, at 8:45 o'clock today.

The report, which came from the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad agent there, said no damage had been done.

pital Where Pedestrian Died of Injuries.

A Louisiana license and an automobile of distinctive type, which killed a pedestrian near Jefferson and Shenandoah avenues last night, led to the finding of the driver of the car today and a confession from him that he had stolen it in Louisiana.

Edward Buchmuller, 41 years old, a plumber, of 4637 Fair avenue, was the man struck and fatally injured. Charles E. Hollis, 39, of Ghens, La., is the driver responsible, who feloniously fled the scene. Buchmuller was taken to the nearby Lutheran Hospital, where he died of internal injuries in an hour. Hollis had just obtained the job of yardman at that hospital yesterday.

License Number Noted.
Buchmuller was crossing from the west to the east side of Jefferson, just south of Shenandoah, at 9:45 p. m. Hollis was driving south in Jefferson. He declared today that his speed was 25 miles an hour, that he slowed down, blew the horn and waved Buchmuller, but that the latter stepped into the right side of the car. Hollis said he became panic stricken, and sped away without stopping. He slowed down long enough for witnesses to get the license number, 34-1234, and saw a man in a Packard touring, with several men occupants.

A policeman today found the car in a public garage at 3423 Ohio avenue, where Hollis had left it. The car was a 1924 Packard. The police were told that Edward Brandau, assistant engineer of Lutheran Hospital, and a stranger, left the car there last night. Brandau told about the accident, when questioned, and led to Hollis. They had been accompanied on a ride last night by Henry Oroski, a hospital laundryman, and, they said, they had some beer during the evening.

YOUTH GETS LOTS

POSING AS RANCHER"Arizonan," in Market for Expensive Car, Turns Out to Be Mechanic.

Automobile Row learned to its surprise today that "T. M. Miller," a "rancher from Arizona," who has been taking daily demonstration rides in Lincoln, Packards, Cadillacs and Jordans since his arrival in St. Louis a week ago, is merely Oliver Russell, a 22-year-old garage mechanic from Richard City, Tenn.

"I'm a hill-billy, not a rancher," the youth confessed at Police Headquarters today, following his arrest at the request of the Owen-Basket Co., Lincoln distributors, who had become suspicious. "I worked in the garage at Richard City, but only Ford's came there to be repaired, and I wanted to learn about high-priced cars."

"I had three dollars when I landed here, and I've been stopping at a cheap hotel near Broadway and Market. I told the salesman I was out at the Coronado Hotel, and intended to drive back to my Arizona ranch in the best car I could buy. I'm sunburned and I wear my shirt open at the neck, just like ranchers do in the movies, so they all fell for me. But, honestly, I didn't intend to do anything dishonest—I just wanted to get the inside dope on classy cars. Now, I can drive any make."

Russell was arrested as he and a demonstrator returned from a ride in a Cadillac. His possessions included 30 cards from automobile salesmen and three cents. He would have had 13 cents, only he spent a dime for a plug of tobacco this morning to perfect his impersonation of a rancher.

CONSTANTINOPLE POLICE ARE ORDERED TO SHAVE"Bikdjs," Also Will Carry Regulation "Billy" Instead of Long Iron-Tipped Sticks.

By the Associated Press.
CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 28.—Innovative changes follow the trend of times in New Turkey. By order of the Prefect, the picturesque night watchmen of Constantinople must shave off their flowing beards and crop their long hair. So they must replace their turban with a cap and their baggy trousers with a uniform resembling that of the regular police.

No longer are the wakeful inhabitants of the city to hear the reassuring beat of their long iron-tipped sticks on the cobblestones, or thieves make their escape, thanks to the warning "tap, tap, tap." The sticks of the watchmen have been confiscated and the policemen's billy, less attractive, but of more practical value, is to be carried instead.

Hereafter the watchmen, or "bikdjs," as they are called, have collected gratuities from householders on their beats instead of receiving regular wages. Now the municipal government will exact from each family, in proportion to its financial capacity, a sum to be paid them as a regular wage.

The announcement was made here by Herman Roe, president of the State Fair board, who received a radiogram relayed from Washington through Fred Spelling, The Associated Press' St. Paul correspondent, who is to come from St. Louis through Des Moines and Webster City, Ia., thence into Minnesota, and then depart for Wisconsin for the closing day of the fair in that State.

PARIS, Aug. 28.—Official announcement was made today that Finance Minister Caillaux will sail on the liner Paris, Sept. 16, to initiate the debt-funding negotiations with the United States. Caillaux will be accompanied by only one expert. The rest of the French mission is to follow either on Sept. 19 or 23.

It was also announced today that there was no disagreement between Caillaux and Foreign Minister Briand concerning the ratio of political men to financiers on the debt mission.

The Ministers, however, are finding it extremely difficult to choose from all the political applicants, three times as many having applied as there are places on the mission. The financial men already have been chosen.

By ARNO DOSCH FLEURYOT, Paris Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World. Copyright, 1925, by Press and Publisher Publishing Co., New York World and Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, Aug. 28.—Finance Minister Caillaux will head the French debt-funding commission. The decision was made at a Cabinet meeting yesterday.

Supporting him will be Henri Franklin Bouillon, chairman of the Chamber of Deputies Finance Committee; Vincent Auriol, the minister of budget; and Henri Berenger, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee.

That Caillaux does not expect to achieve a settlement is no secret in the Ministry of Finance. He is under no illusion that the tentative settlement with Winston Churchill, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, will make any impression on the American Debt Funding Commission. It is intimated.

But Caillaux is pleased with the cut he made in the British demand because he did not wish to argue with Washington without having a settlement, even though tentative, for reduction.

French Opinion With Caillaux.
Caillaux, under the circumstances, is pleased to go because he will have French opinion behind him in making an offer to pay on something approximating the tentative British agreement. If he fails it will not injure him politically at home, and he has the assurance to believe that even with the aid against him he may get a settlement on the basis of reductions.

In the Ministry of Finance, where an array of figures is being prepared to show France cannot pay in full, there is a belief, which Caillaux does not share, that America will end by accepting the French terms. General opinion does not go farther than to hold that France must make a direct offer to Washington, lay the whole financial situation on the table, and if the United States refuses to compromise, change France's entire debt policy.

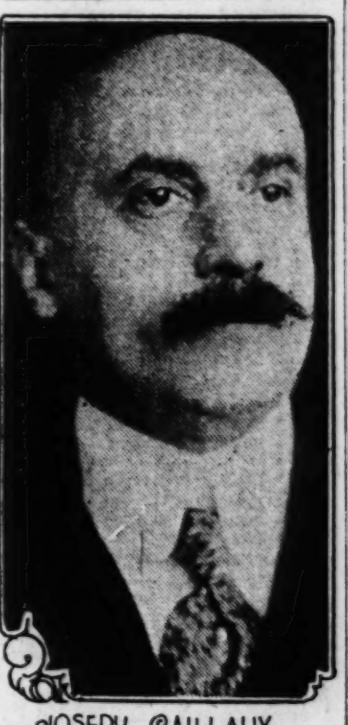

This attitude gives the coming conference in Washington exceptional importance. If progress toward an agreement is not made there, the settlement will be pushed off into the indefinite. Caillaux, however, will do his utmost to prevent this, as he holds France's financial status cannot be re-established until debts are settled.

Definite Limit of Payment.
He will have a definite limit of payment, however, as the tentative British settlement would require approximately two and one-half billion francs annually, the American debt would require something more than three and one-half on the same terms. Add to this the two and one-half billions now being paid the two countries through the commercial debt, and it would require, even on Caillaux's terms, nearly nine billion francs for annual interest and amortization. German reparations do not amount to this and Caillaux will not go beyond that in offers.

This line of argument accounts for Caillaux's pessimism. Within the last few months all

SAUERKRAUT DEFINED BY U. S.

Guide Filed for Enforcing National Food Act.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—An official definition of sauerkraut was approved yesterday by the Secretary of Agriculture as a guide for department officials in the enforcement of food and drug act.

The Secretary ruled that sauerkraut is "the clean, sound product of characteristic acid flavor, obtained by the full fermentation chiefly lactic, of properly prepared and shredded cabbage and the presence of not less than 2 per cent nor more than 3 per cent of salt."

It contains, upon completion of the fermentation, not less than 4 per cent of lactic acid, expressed as lactic acid," said the definition. "Sauerkraut which has been rebrined in the process of canning or repacking contains not less than 1 per cent of acid expressed as lactic acid."

Dr. W. H. Ximenes, city veterinarian and owner of the hospital, diagnosed Paul's ailment as "ulcerative stomatitis, or stomach inflammation, which is nothing different than ptomaine poisoning."

Robbers Mingle With Others in Elevators After Robbery on Eighth Floor of the Title Guaranty.TWO OFFICERS TIED,
MADE TO LIE DOWNMoney Taken From Safe of Trinidad Asphalt Manufacturing Co.—$300
Overlooked.

Payroll robbers went to the busy Title Guaranty Building, Seventh and Chestnut streets, this morning, and go away with $1777 from the payroll of the Trinidad Asphalt Manufacturing Co., in suite 101.

Presumably the robbers mingled in the elevators going up and down with men and women on legitimate business. They were well dressed. A crowd gathered at the building when the police hurried to the scene, and there was an erroneous report that one of the robbers had been pursued to the roof and captured.

Officer at Telephone.
J. G. Hittman of 8415 Alabama avenue, vice president of the company, was seated at the telephone, with his back to the hall door, and F. W. Reader of 5900A Kennerly avenue, the secretary-treasurer, was in an inner room at a typewriter, when the robbers entered at 11 o'clock.

The robbers held handkerchiefs over their faces as they went in. One told Hittman to drop the telephone, but the vice president failed to understand and finished his conversation. The other went to Reader and made him unlock the inner door of the safe, the outer door of which was open.

Hittman at first had the impression that the men were salesmen, but this was dispelled when they drew revolvers, then produced a section of clothesline. Hittman and Reader were made to lie on the floor of the inner room, where they were bound with the rope.

"Do you want me to take this cigar out of my mouth?" Hittman asked. "No," one robber replied, but then removed the cigar and gagged Hittman with a handkerchief, while his companion gagged Reader.

One robber stood guard over the officers while the other took the $1777 from the safe. This money was in bulk. The $311 remainder of the weekly payroll for roofing and paving employees was in envelopes, which the man stacked on a table, but seemingly forgot to take home.

Told to Quit Looking.
"I tried to look at the men, while lying down," Hittman related afterwards, but one of them said "Quit looking or I'll give you a crack on the dome. You see how easy it is for us to get you here. We could get you at your house just as easy. We ain't going to take long or hurt you." This man called to the other one that he would watch us for 15 minutes after the other was left, but I heard the other leave the outer office, then this fellow went in there and I figured he was leaving. I was able to wiggle loose in a couple of minutes and cut Reader free. The robbers were here about 15 minutes."

No weapons were kept in the office, but Reader said there would be hereafter. The company has been paying its men at the office, in cash, on Saturdays, for a long time. The loss is insured. One of the robbers was described as about 35 years old, short and heavyset, while the other was about 25 and tall.

This was the 25th payroll robbery in the city this year, and a total of $38,194 was obtained in them. Most of the robberies were on Saturday, shortly before noon.

Policeman Exchanges Shots With Men Who Rob Grocery.
Three young robbers in a Ford coupe escaped with $1190 taken from the till in the grocery of Sam Gittens, 5565 Manchester avenue, at 12:45 p. m. today, after an exchange of shots with Probationary Patrolman Theodore Rathgeber, who chanced upon the scene as they drove away.

One of the robbers entered the store, carrying a revolver. He ordered Gittens to hold up his hands, but Gittens refused, and was stunned by a blow from the revolver. The robber rifled the cash

NEW SYNDICATE TAKES OVER STINNES' NOTES

Four Large Berlin Banks to Sell Coal Mines of Late Magnate.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
BERLIN, Aug. 29.—Reorganization of the banking syndicate which is liquidating the financial affairs of the family of the late Hugo Stinnes has been effected through the formation of a group comprising four "D" banks of Berlin—the Deutsche Bank, Disconto Gesellschaft, Darmstädter Bank and Dresdener Bank.

As a consequence of the new line up, it is announced, liquidation of the various Stinnes obligations now is definitely assured, it being expected that the new group will assume the notes, paper and other credits which heretofore have been held by 22 banks. Much of this is overdue, but the four major banks of Berlin announce they will be able to assume all the obligations by virtue of their resolution to dispose of all the remaining Stinnes holdings, among which are the family's coal mines and coal merchandising organizations scattered over Europe.

In addition, these so-called available assets include a group of six hotels valued at 40,000,000 marks, and large tracts of farm and timber land.

Outstanding estimates place the value of the outstanding assets under forced conversion at 140,000,- 000 marks, whereas the Stinnes family's unpaid indebtedness is fixed at 120,000,000 marks.

A communique issued by the new syndicate concludes with the statement that previous sales of the various Stinnes holdings were made with the full knowledge and concurrence of the Stinnes family and its legal advisers.

Indianapolis.

The new hotel, ground for which was broken July 5, last year, is of 18 stories, modern fireproof construction, situated at the southeast corner of Eighth and St.
Charles streets, in the heart of the downtown business, theater and shopping district.

Entrances from both Eighth and St. Charles street lead to the conventional small lobby of the modern hotel. Three shops front on Eighth street, a cigar store, connecting with the lobby, fronts on St. Charles street, while the remainder of the first floor is given over to the dining room.

Furnished in Elizabethan style, the dining room, with the exception of a coffee shop in the basement, will be the single dining place of the hotel. About 50 by 100 feet in area, it is ornately furnished in the Elizabethan style, with dark woodwork—as are the furnishings throughout—with ornamental pillings of gilt and white.

A lounge room on the second floor, of approximately the same size, is presented in a different hotel construction, not only in its size and furnishings, but in its purpose to afford guests a place for rest or reception outside their rooms. It is furnished with numerous overstuffed pieces of furniture in taupe or mauve. The lounge is decorated in the Adam period style, the windows being hung in red silk draperies.

The third floor also contains a bath-chamber and a very large beauty shop, it being pointed out to the visitor's attention that its removal from customary location in the hotel basement was intended to give it a more private and exclusive character.

Three high-speed elevators furnish transportation to the 400 guests and sample rooms. The sample rooms have been popularly priced at from $2 to $6. The room prices are posted in the dining room, and the management has insisted on no change of schedule being made in the event of conditions or other occasions of numerous guests. All rooms have private entrance, bath, circulating air, electric fans, large closets and bed lamps.

Owned by Mayfair Co., the new hotel is owned and operated by the Mayfair Investment Co., a Missouri corporation capitalized at $600,000. In its financing the company, largely St. Louis investors, has sold $400,000 worth of stock, 7 per cent, cumulative, at $10 a share. In addition to the capital thus furnished, it has bonded the property for $1,600,000.

Balance of the stock remaining in the treasury. The officers of the company are Charles Heise, president; manager; J. Lionberger Davis, vice president; and Theodore Wicks, secretary-treasurer. The building was designed by Preston B. Bradshaw, St. Louis architect, and constructed under his direction.

President-manager Heise started the hotel business 27 years ago as a bushy in the Victoria Hotel on Heidelberg. He worked in Russell and Paris and then went to London, where he was manager of the Russell Hotel in Russell square and the Tudor Hotel in Oxford street. From there he went to Canada, where he was steward at the Chateau Laurier in Ottawa.
From there he went to Detroit, where he was manager of the Stat-ton Hotel, and thence to St. Louis, where for seven years, until the Mayfair Hotel project was launched, he was manager of the Mather Hotel.

and warned me I could not buy

I returned the tile and substituted concrete."

NEIGHBORS OF PACKING PLANT SUE TO SHUT IT DOWN

Noise and Odors of Slaughter House on Shenandoah Avenue Prompted Residents to Sue.

Loud squealing of hogs being slaughtered and the resultant packing-house odors are objections argued by residents in the vicinity of the Lauchle Packing Co., 2025 Shenandoah avenue, in a petition filed in Circuit Court yesterday, asking that the packing house be enjoined from further operations.

Petitioners in the suit, Jacob H.
Remmers, 2040 Russell boulevard,
Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Bensch, 2005
Ann avenue, and Mr. and Mrs.
Frank J. Mueller, 2107A Ann avenue, state the loud noises emitted by hogs being butchered are annoying, and that the packing-house odors "pollute the wholesome fresh air," and "render their homes uninhabitable." The petition alleges further that, as a result of the alleged nuisance, property values are depreciated. The suit requests a temporary restraining order against the packing company in order that the odors and squealing may be discontinued.

In a statement today, Fred G.
Haeusslermann, president of the La-uchle company, said the present situation of his concern had been caused by a packing plant for the last 40 years. "We try to make our business as inoffensive as possible and have just spent $6000 in remodeling the plant," he said. "I am sorry the neighbors are forcing us to defend ourselves in court."

ALL POLICEMEN ORDERED TO ENFORCE TRAFFIC LAWS

Chief Says Everyone in Department Must Familiarize Themselves With Rules.

The rank and file of the Police Department must familiarize themselves with traffic laws, rules and regulations and enforce them instead of leaving such violations to the Traffic and Motor Cycle departments alone.

Chief Gerk issued this order yesterday to the district commanders, saying the "ignorance of some of the rank and file with respect to these laws is humiliating and embarrassing."

So the men on the beats may have no excuses to offer in the future for their failure to enforce the traffic laws, the Chief intends to publish each day on the Police bulletin one or two laws. In addition, he will order the arrest of any person displaying on any motor vehicle "a replica, facsimile or counterfeit number plate or any plate on which the number has been erased, changed or altered."

Admits He Escaped Jail.

today that he broke jail at Union, Mo., last March while he and another youth were awaiting trial on a charge of highway robbery.

WILCOXEN NOT TO QUIT STATE HEALTH BOARD

Bowling Green Man Says He Will Continue to Serve Until Successor Is Named.

Dr. T. H. Wilcoxon of Bowling Green, a member of the State Board of Health for 12 years, told the Post-Dispatch over long-distance telephone today that he would not resign from the board to make room for someone favorable to Dr. Cortez F. Enloe, a member of the board and formerly its secretary.

A report sent out from Jefferson
City and published in a Kansas City newspaper today indicated Dr.
Wilcoxon would step out, and Dr.
William A. Clark of Jefferson City would be appointed by Gov. Baker to succeed him.

Dr. Emmett P. North and Dr.
James Stewart, president and secretary, respectively, of the board, recently asked Gov. Baker to remove Dr. Enloe on the ground he had permitted unqualified persons to take examinations for medical licenses. Gov. Baker refused to oust Dr. Enloe, his political adversary, and Dr. North and Dr.
Stewart to resign. They have not resigned, as they fear Dr. Enloe would control the board.

"I understood a report has been published that I want to resign," Dr. Wilcoxon told the Post-Dispatch. "I certainly do not want to resign. I am in sympathy with Dr. North and Stewart. I was appointed to the board in 1912 by Gov. Major, reappointed by him in 1914 and reappointed by Gov.
Gardner in 1918. My commission expired in 1922, but I specified I to serve until a successor was appointed. If Gov. Baker wants to appoint a successor for me, I suppose he has the power to do so, but I won't resign under any circumstances."

Eighteen Saloons Raided.
In a search of the saloon of Ray Behrend, at 2501 North Grand avenue, police raided 18 saloons yesterday and last night, arresting 24 persons. There were 23 persons arrested as holdover suspects; four handbooks were raided, and three persons were arrested when a loaded revolver was found in their automobile.

Detectives Behnken and Cline and Patrolman Ledford, stationed at the Free Bridge, yesterday arrested four men who admitted they were dealers in the sale of liquor.
This brought the number of arrests for this character made by them and for which the Government pays a reward of $50, to 17 for the month of August.

Warrants Issued in Three of Nineteen Cases Presented by Police.

Warrants were issued in three cases of alleged liquor violations from the recent raid on the Free

Hunter Dalton, 49 years old, former Granite City saloon keeper, serving a two-year sentence at Leavenworth prison for conspiracy to rob the mails, died there Thursday from cirrhosis of the liver and fatty degeneration of the heart. He had been ill and in hospital most of the time since his commitment last Dec. 8. His wife was with him at the time he died, and she took the body to Granite City for burial.

On April 14, 1922, Granite City police and postoffice inspectors, informed by a mail messenger that Dalton and Patrick Conway, a St.
Louis police chaperone, had arranged with him to steal $52,000 from the mail at Granite City, accused themselves and arrested Conway as he jumped on a mail truck with drawn revolver. Dalton was arrested as he was seated in sentences of two years' imprison-

TIP BY TELEPHONE FOLLOWED BY RAID

Operator of Whisky Bottling Plant Absent, However,
When Police Arrive.

An anonymous telephone message to the Page Boulevard Police Station, yesterday, informing that some men were unloading what appeared to be whisky bottles in a shed in the rear of 5089 Page boulevard, led to the discovery of a whisky bottling plant.

Acting Police Captain and a squad of police surrounded the premises, but found no one. In the shed in the rear they found six five-gallon jugs of whisky and two cases of empty flasks. In the place, they found three empty whisky barrels, three empty five-gallon jugs, a box of spurious labels and revenue stamps for half pint and pint bottles, and a corking and labeling machine.

The first floor of the house was vacant, and the two upper floors, where the paraphernalia were found, were sparsely furnished as though used for sleeping quarters.
The police found evidence of liquor law violation in the place, and then made inquiry of a real estate company as to the tenants.
They learned it had been rented a month ago to two young men, who presented recommendations from the New York City police.

Following the search a few days ago of the saloon of George Zisoff, at 1500 Pine street, in which no evidence of liquor law violation was obtained, the police set a watch over Zisoff's home at 2038 Ann avenue, last night. About 11 o'clock, Detective Sergeant Roach reported, Mrs. Zisoff awoke up and asked him to come in. She searched, disclosed two empty five-gallon jugs. Zisoff arrived a few minutes later. The police searched the garage and reported finding a loaded revolver. Zisoff denied ownership of the whisky. He was arrested.

Ultra-Small Organisms Revealed By Quartz Lens

Inventor of Super-Microscope Now Working on Fluorile Lens That Will Reveal Individual Molecules.

By WATSON DAVIS,
Managing Editor Science Service.
(Copyright 1925.)
SOUTHAMPTON, England, Aug.
29.—Snatched from the realm of the infinitesimally small and magnified to visibility on the stereop-toscopic screen, the organism blamed for human breast cancer was shown at the meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science yesterday.

These minute bits of living matter, so small that they cannot pass through the pores of a fine porcelain filter able to strain out of a solution the smallest bacteria, became visible under a powerful microscope, can be detected only by means of the ultra-microscope.

The latest developments in the ultra-microscope are the work of J. E. Barnard, with Dr. Gye, co-discoverer of the cancer germ, who addressed the assembly yesterday.
The ordinary microscope, using its highest power, can make visible to the eye objects as small as the shortest wave length of visible light, which is, roughly speaking, about one five hundred thousands of an inch long. The ultraviolet radiations, however, have even shorter wave lengths, which can pick out objects invisibly small,
and though they cannot make them directly visible to the eye they can register their image on a photographic plate.

The ultra-microscope makes use of these rays of extremely short-wave lengths, and since these rays cannot pass through glass, it is equipped with lenses of pure quartz. With this instrument the ultra-microscope can pick out objects as small as the shortest wave length of visible light, which is, roughly speaking, about one five hundred thousands of an inch long. The ultraviolet radiations, however, have
even shorter wave lengths, which
can pick out objects invisibly small,
and though they cannot make them
directly visible to the eye they can register their image on a photographic plate.

Working on More Powerful Lens.

But Barnard is not yet satisfied with his conquest of the infinitely little; he is reaching out into the realm of the ultra-ultra-microscope, the place of its discovery, near Asyut. Its antiquity was determined accurately by a study of the successive yearly flood-marks of the Nile.

The early civilization of Britain was connected with that of the Egypt of Tut-Ank-Amen's day by Sir W. Boyd Dawkins, who discovered buried at the famous and mysterious Stonehenge, a number of Egyptian beads dating from the reign of Tut-Ank-Amen's predecessor and father-in-law Akhnaton, in 1350 B. C. This is the first clear evidence to the date of these monuments, which have long been one of the great archaeological riddles of the world.

Prize Awarded.

This exhibit won him the medal for the finest aquarium over 10 gallons. He won the cup for the best exhibit of tropical fish, with 45 entries. The cup for the best exhibit of gold-fish varieties was awarded to H. A. Vorrbeck, who won the same award last year. A silver medal for the finest coral-reef in the show was won by a bunkin owned by St. Paulus, a South Side druggist. The medal for the finest "ants was won by Otto Buder, treasurer of the society. The medal for the best aquarium under 10 gallons was awarded to Dr. R.
Wobas.

The show is open all day today and from 1 p. m. to 6 p. m. tomorrow, when it closes. Many visitors yesterday paused at the fly pools at the entrance with exclamations of admiration for the flies now arrested at their feet. Some of the finest blooms are of four internationally famous varieties developed at the garden by the horticulturist, George H. Pring.

Shocker To Pitch For Yankees, Gaston For Browns Today

Joe Giard Pitches St. Louis to 1-0 Victory Over Huggins' Troupe in First Game of Series, Though Waite Hoyt Twirls 3-Hit Game—Browns Field Brilliantly.

By Dent McSkimming.

Urban Shocker, who was one of us for many happy seasons, probably will pitch for New York this afternoon against the Browns in the second game of the series. By a queer quirk of fate, Milton Gaston, who came to the Browns in the Shocker trade, is due to oppose his former Yankee teammates.

But even Shocker at his best may not be able to stop the Browns. Not a runner has crossed the plate against the St. Louis team in the last 20 innings of baseball. They have scored two successive shutouts and they had two scoreless innings to close Wednesday's game.

Two successive shutouts in the era of the lively ball is SOME accomplishment.

In falling to score yesterday New York suffered its tenth shutout of the season. Joe Giard's effective pitching was supported by spectacular fielding by his mates and as a result Waite Hoyt's wonderful three-hit pitching masterpiece was wasted. Two of the three hits obtained by the Browns were crowded into the second inning, along with a favorable error by Beagles.

Giard has scored three shutout victories this season. He blanked the Washington Club on Aug. 7, allowing only four hits, and came back with another row of blanks against Cleveland on Aug. 15, allowing three hits. His record for the season is seven victories and three defeats.

A few minutes this season have produced so many baseball thrills in so short a space of time. The game consumed only one hour and 23 minutes.

Not aware, perhaps, that Giard was unable to hit Giard all day, dumped a sacrifice bunt toward first base. Sliser, anticipating the play, was in on the ball in a hurry and his perfect throw to third base retired the sliding Babe Ruth by a hair's breadth. That served to clear the atmosphere somewhat.

Bengough relieved the tension further when he popped to Sliser.

Grasping a last chance, Manager Huggins sent Joe Dugan, the injured knuck, hobbling to the plate as a pinch hitter for Ernie Johnson because Johnson is a left-hand batter. Dugan looked dangerous at the plate for a while and finally he met the ball with a beautiful catch, with his back to the plate, retiring the side and saving the game.

Jacobson's double in the second inning missed home-run territory by only a foot or two. After McManus had fanned, Bennett sent a drive to right field which was good for one base. It is doubtful if Jacobson could have scored on the hit had the ball bordered true but the ball popped off Paschal's arm, making the run a sure thing.

WASHINGTON PRINTERS' TOURNEY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The Washington Typos won their fourth consecutive championship of the International Union Printers' Baseball League yesterday, defeating Boston, 13 to 1, in the final of the annual tournament.

Norman Hutchinson held the New Englanders to seven hits and blanked them in the other four. Four support behind Pitcher Lefty Sullivan cost Boston the game, six errors being made. The score by innings:

Club. 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R H E.

Boston. 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 1 0

How do the busy baseball star improve each shining minute? He sees the pennant from afar and tries his best to win it. In batting and in fielding balls his eye is good and true. Then tripping on the bag he falls and breaks a leg or two.

QUITE SO.
The man who breaks a leg through careless base running shouldn't complain about not getting the breaks.

Take Everett Scott for instance. The Deacon either had the toughest bones in baseball or knew how to take care of them.

Some charge that towards the last Scotty sidestepped some hard chances in order to keep his bones and playing streak unbroken.

Be that as it may the Deacon left a mark for future generations to shoot at before he was finally benched by Huggins.

There will be no revival of the spit ball in the American and National Leagues. When the few remaining "bootleg" pitchers have faded from the picture the major leagues will be bone dry.

THE POPULAR ANGLE.
By the way, did you ever hear anybody speak of any angle other than one of 45 degrees? Neither did we.

There must be other angles, but for descriptive purposes the old 45 has been chosen by common consent.

IN OLD MISSOURI.
We have everything that any other state has, including gangsters and klansmen. What more do you want?

Two of the largest rivers in the world lap her shores. Putting her two laps ahead of Kansas and Nebraska.

Her statesmen are second to none and her old-time fiddlers lead the world in scraping the catgut.

There may be a better state than Missouri somewhere, but not in the group known as United.

DILLON, VETERAN
REVENUE AGENT,
NEW GROUP CHIEF

Will Succeed W. C. Goshorn
Tuesday as Director of Prohibition Agents in St. Louis.

Raids When Unarmed.

James Dillon, veteran internal revenue agent, has been appointed group chief of Federal prohibition agents in St. Louis and will take charge of his new post Tuesday, succeeding William C. Goshorn. The appointment was announced yesterday by William D. Moss, acting prohibition director of the St. Louis district. Moss said he was unable to say what Goshorn's future status would be.

Dillon, who is 50 years old and a resident of Peoria, Ill., has been in charge of the administrative work of the general prohibition office here for the last two years, while Goshorn has served as group chief of Federal prohibition agents. His appointment comes as a result of the consolidation of the two branches in the nation-wide reorganization of prohibition forces, effective Sept. 1.

Moss, who arrived here yesterday to establish offices in the Federal Guaranty Building, said Dillon's appointment over Goshorn was logical in view of his past work and experience in the department.

In service 22 years, the new group chief has had long experience in the Government service. He began work in the internal revenue department 22 years ago, first being assigned as gauger at large distilleries which operated at Peoria before prohibition became effective. Although his activities in St. Louis have not been of a nature to attract wide public attention, he is regarded as an authority on internal revenue and prohibition law and a highly efficient officer. His practice of conducting raids, while unarmed especially has operated to gain for him a reputation of fearlessness. Most prohibition agents do carry weapons on their raiding expeditions.

Moss also stated that several other appointments affecting the local area would be made before Tuesday, but declined to say what these would be.

New Dry Administrator Outlines His Policy.

William D. Moss, Acting Federal Prohibition Administrator for the St. Louis district, arriving here yesterday to organize his office, made it plain that he will not tolerate "official lawlessness" that he will respect all laws in enforcing the liquor law, and that he will fight the petty markets of liquor as well as the big sources of supply.

He will take over his duties actively next Tuesday, directing the agencies of prohibition in Missouri, Kansas and southern counties of Illinois, under the new decentralized system evolved by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon.

Under the administrator will be 59 civil service employees in an office occupying an entire floor of the Title Guaranty Building and, he expects, 75 to 100 enforcement agents in the district.

Administrator Moss drove here from Kansas City with his wife and young son. Stressing his desire for rational enforcement of the dry law, he said to a Post-Dispatch reporter at the Warwick Hotel yesterday:

Talk of His Policy.

"It will be my policy to enforce the prohibition law within the law. There will be no violence. Any official is unfit who violates other laws to enforce one law. When an agent goes into court to present a case, I want him to go with clean hands."

"With respect to entrapment of violators: To induce a man to violate a law is one thing, but to persuade a man to commit a crime which he is in the habit of committing is quite another. I want nothing of this entrapment work, such as inducing a man to violate a law in order the common urge of fraternal stimulation."

"Any citizen, regardless of whether he is wet or dry, has no objection to a lawful enforcement of this law. If a law is not so enforced, any decent citizen has the right to be up in arms. The principal difficulty in the enforcement
